Aquatic Training Vessel - ATV™

Aquatic training is an important part of the sports, health and fitness as well as wellness disciplines that are popular today. Aquatic exercise has a reduced impact on the joints whilst the water's resistance challenges muscles. The ATV is an all-round, balanced workout that can improve all major components of physical fitness, for the fully fit as well as those with disabilities. Whatever your motivation, be it weight loss through aerobic activity, injury recovery, competitions, or you just enjoy a swim the ATV has everything you need – including the well-loved relaxing spa features.

For many people, access to a water location that can be used regularly, effectively and now affordably in daily life has been a challenge – until now.

An ATV™ is much more than a traditional swim spa. Hydrodynamic flow design and controls allow you to customise water flow options and speeds for your optimised aquatic workouts, perfect for your particular body type and workout regime.

Exercise

In an ATV™, swim strokes, leg kicks, resistance movements, and low-impact range of motion exercises are all options for your active efforts and healthy life. They can also just be a place to kick back and float away stress or laugh and play with the kids. An ATV™ is a true action vessel for your whole family to enjoy all year-round.

Aquatic Training Vessel - ATV™

The true four foot (122 cm) water depth allows for a more extensive full torso range of exercises when immersed in the water. ATV™ activities may include anything from free swimming and water aerobic exercises, of course, as well as use of the standard feature swim tether, or optional Resistance & Rowing Kit attachments. Crank up the audio option to work out to your favourite music.

Relax

The ATV™ also features Marquis® famous hydrotherapy jets and flow controls in seat locations for leg and torso massage. Utilising Marquis® high flow / low pressure, massage action, a therapeutic deep seat and a post workout cool-down seat offer important muscle and soft tissue massage benefits. Add sub-waterline LED lighting to bring additional sparkle to the water. Or choose the fountains' 12-point water feature option for beautiful arcing streams of water along the vessel walls.

Strength & Durability

The ATV™ is made with bonded polymer resins to create the strongest vessel in the swim spa industry today. The bonded macromolecular structure makes the vessel impervious to the crazing and cracking found in typical acrylic swim spas.

The innovative bowed sidelines are more stylised than a typical swim spa allowing for a more spacious swim and workspace than comparable rectangular swim spas, accommodating greater space for mobility and workout freedom without banging into walls. The non-slip safety surface ensures the interior steps as well as workout areas are safe and non-slippery.

Traditional & Infrared Saunas

A sauna is all about relaxation, health and well-being and the wood quality is paramount when choosing a good quality sauna. Wood is among the most natural materials on earth and Alpha Wellness Sensations only use certified and sustainable wood and wood products, primarily Canadian red cedar giving a modern and sleek appearance.

The popular and very affordable Infrawave sauna is available in four standard sizes and is currently the best-selling infrared sauna in Europe. The heaters can provide a fast, deep infrared heat transfer or induce a slow, relaxing heat which penetrates deep into the muscle tissue. Colour light therapy, remote controls, floor heating and iPod dock make this sauna a true experience.

The saunas come in traditional, infrared or combination models that can be rectangular or pentagonal in shape and in some cases customised with your own décor panels.

Alpha have paid a lot of attention and time to finding the best quality infrared heaters. Tests and certificates by the Seibersdorf University laboratory in Austria and the German certification institute TUV provide the scientific proof that Alpha infrared heaters guarantee quality, safety and durability.

Outdoor Saunas & Hammam

Outdoor saunas help bring the outdoors, indoors. Whether you have beautiful surroundings or not, we have a range of outdoor saunas to suit you - like this glass sauna giving panoramic views, dual stoves and a floating bench giving you a real sense of freedom.

Or how about the new Eclipse, an outdoor, inspiring and innovative barrel-shaped sauna that makes you feel connected with nature. An inspiring and innovative sauna. It's eye-catching cylinder shape has an elegant look and it is a perfect addition to one's garden or terrace. The outside surface is covered with synthetic plastering and it can be finished by choice. Eclipse is furnished with a wood-burning stove, but it can be also equipped with an electric one.

Many people prefer traditional hammams or oriental steam rooms which can be more bearable than saunas due to the lower temperatures and water based environments.

Hammams have been popular since ancient times and still play an important role in cultural and social life in the Middle East. "Hammam" means "spreader of warmth" and is a place to retreat from the daily stress of life and unwind. The experience can be combined with scrubs, wraps and/or massage and most finish off with a cold shower to energise and invigorate your body.
